5th/6th Grade

One night I dreamed about taking care of my brothers hunting dogs because they had to go on a trip with my cousins skiing in Colorado. They gave me strict orders to get them clean water, feed them, and also let them out to exercise, but not let them run away. Well as soon as I went to the hydrant to fill the water bucket I couldn't see them in the open. I yelled, "Spud, Cooper". I waited for a little bit. I still couldn't see them. Before I knew it, it was dark out. My dad said, "I guess we'll just wait till morning and see if they come home". "Okay", I mumbled. So I went to bed, but I didn't get much sleep thinking about what my brothers will do to me if they weren't home when they returned.

I woke up and looked out the window. The dogs weren't there. It was only two days until Trent and Trevor came home. My mom said, "I'll make a lost sign and put it in Dick's Place when I go eat dinner". "Okay", I said. My mom said, "Just go take a shower and get ready for school". When I got home from school that day, I was waiting for a phone call to say they have my brother's dogs. Well the night has passed and I have received no calls. I was getting more worried now that my brothers were coming home in a day.

I was going to sleep now, but I can't even shut my eyes, praying that they will show up or at least get a call. The next morning I got up and went to school without finding the dogs when I woke up. When 3:30 came I was excited to go home and see if anybody had called. Sure enough my dad said the maintainer man had called and asked if we had two German short hair dogs. My dad said, "Yes, would you know where they are"? He said, "I saw them by a neighbor that lived three miles away". So my dad called our neighbor and asked if our dogs were there. He said, "They have been here for a whole day". Our neighbor also said, "They ate fifteen chickens of the other neighbors that were out of state this week and he had been watching their house." My dad said, "I will come and get them." The neighbor said, "Okay". So my dad and I went to the neighbor's house. When we pulled in his driveway we saw him with a gun to their heads. Then I woke up.

Bobcat team takes championship

Lincoln 2008- On November 21st, the Blue Hill Bobcat football team won the C2 state championship. The Bobcat football team has never won a state championship.

The Bobcat football team fought their way to the championship 3 years in a row and got runner-up the first 2 years and then won the 3rd year.

The Bobcats scored early and maintained their lead throughout the game. The fans for the Bobcats were very pumped and nervous. Both teams tried their hardest and wanted to be the champion. The Bobcats came out with the win. Coach Porter and the players worked their hardest throughout the season and we all give the best of luck to the Bobcats for next year.

“Behind you Rory!” yelled Liz. I turned around and hit the man who was trying to catch me. The thing about being a spy is you never truly know what’s going to happen so you have to rely on your friends when someone is about to attack you.

It’s April 30th 2015. It’s sunny and hot, the sun is burning us along with blinding us in the eyes. Besides that it’s perfect weather for our spy mission.

Were on a mission to save the enormous and most valuable diamond from Jamaica, and were fighting all these great strong people that are trying to steal the diamond.

Jill was hollering something in Chinese or Russian but I couldn’t hear because I was too busy yelling at Liz, “Run! They set a bomb on the gate covering the diamond!” I’m running, Liz is running, Jill is running, a lot of others were running. 10,9,8,7,6,5,4,3,2,1 BOOM!!

We get back to our headquarters, we do a head count, and we all start cheering when we find out that everyone is ok! (For the MOST part!)

DREAM JOB!

My name is Lilly, on my way to work, my dream job, a writer for a magazine, but first have to get out of college. I go to UNL. At UNL I take English, writing, and the required courses. I work at the Lincoln Star and I hover over the chief's work. The editor and chief gave me some pointers on starting a story and a way of thinking of a topic to write about. They gave me my homework and I went home right away to start.

My assignment was to write an article about video games. I was to do research, interview, and use what I know. So I started out by going to GameStop, and seeing what was popular really helped me start off. I interviewed two employees that gave me just about as much information that I needed to start off my first article.

"Hi, my name is Lilly. I work for the Lincoln Star and I go to UNL. My homework was to do an article over video games, and if I could ask you a couple questions, that would be great!" I asked.

"Yea, that would be fine," George said. The most popular game system is the Wii, it's not just fun for kids, but adult enjoy it because of the sports and the Wii fit. The Nintendo D.S. is also very popular, its touch screen and it is portable to play Wii games on the go."

"Thank you for your time George." I thanked him.

"No problem and we have our top- 10 video game games over on that poster," replied George.

"Ok, thanks!" I said.

I spent the rest of the night revising, organizing, and checking my six traits of writing. I \handed in my final copy, published and nervous as EVER! The editor and chief asked me to present my article to the rest of the faculty. I did great, and was bumped up to help edit articles with the rest of the team. "YES!!" I shouted.

Runway Meltdown

Hello, you may have known me as the famous supermodel Tgirl on the covers of lots of magazines around the world. I am guessing that you heard what happened on the runway but hey Denise was asking for it. But you never got to hear my side of the story so here it is.

“Get up Tgirl you are going to be late for your appointments and you can’t miss them.” That’s my agent Mrs. Scott she has been married four times and divorced four times but she finally found the man of her dreams Dave Scott. Well back to my story

“Why can’t I miss them they are only appointments can’t we do them for another time? I asked her

“No I have all of them scheduled for this day at 9:00am and right now its 6:58am come on get up right now”.

So I finally got out of the hotel bed. We have been traveling for months but this was my last runway show for the summer because most models wanted the summer off so I was very happy about that.

After all my appointments were over we were finally here at the Catwalk Runway. When we had entered the place there she was the girl I has always hated since day one Denise Adams.

“Hello Tgirl how are you I haven’t seen you in forever it’s been so long.”

“It’s been good I’m loving life living large and being more famous than ever and having all the money in the world.” I had bragged.

“Well I’m loving life living larger and just being the best that I can be which is better than you.”

“You really want to go there with me?”

“If you think you can fight me I’d like to see you try.” She reminded me. You see one time in 5th grade she had called me a follower and I had overheard it and I was very upset about that. She thought we were going to fight but I told the teacher and she has been reminding me about it ever since.

“Hey girls it time for the show get ready.” There I was getting then all of the sudden Denise took a pair of scissors and cut my dress in the back. I knew I was going to get her back somehow, somewhere, sometime.

Well turns out that I didn’t get her back after all but now we had but our differences aside and now we are closer than ever.

You see that was my story now that I am not a supermodel anymore I am still close to Denise and I just want to settle down and have a normal life.
